Aerospace engineer from NASA to present in Booth Library

Staff Report

February 26, 2019

Filed under News

An aerospace engineer from NASA will present “Orion: Back to the Moon and Beyond” at 6:30 p.m. Thursday in Room 4440 of Booth Library, in an event that is free and open to the public.

The presentation by Ann Over, NASA aerospace engineer and deputy manager for the European Service Module Integration Office at Glenn Research Center in Ohio, will focus on the current research and plans for future space missions.

Over’s presentation is a part of the spring exhibit in Booth Library commemorating the 50th anniversary of the moon landing, “On the Shoulders of Giants.”

“On the Shoulders of Giants” looks at Apollo missions with a focus on the July 20, 1969 lunar landing, Eastern alumni connections to the space program, astronaut biographies, current and future space exploration and female contributions to the program.
